

Biokinetics ballistics test lab was recently featured in William Shatner's Weird or What? television series. Our technicians investigated the bullet-stopping capacity of breast implants to shed some light on a weird claim that a woman's life was spared by her implant. See Episode 8 to stay abreast of this development...