

Measuring the speed of bullets and small fragments accurately to over 1800 m/s (6000 ft/s) is made possible with the latest SpeedTube™. Custom redundant HD sensors and software ensure accuracy and consistency along with automated assessment of fair shots and strike velocity. Many more features are described in our Product Ballistics Testing section.